Your plan begins once you have enrolled in the applicable Plan and remains in effect for an initial period of one year. Efficiency Heating & Cooling reserves the right to pre-inspect your residential heating and cooling prior to acceptance in the Efficiency Home Protection Plan. A diagnostic fee may apply to equipment failing to pass pre-inspection. Unless the membership is a continuation of an existing Efficiency Home Protection Plan, the activation date is the date that the heating and cooling system has been approved for acceptance and payment has been received by Efficiency Heating & Cooling. Efficiency Heating & Cooling is not bound to undertake additional preventative or ongoing maintenance other than the furnace or air conditioning maintenance provided as part of the program. Efficiency Heating & Cooling will respond as provided by the level of Efficiency Home Protection Plan.
